

Lab 4 Pre-lab

This lab will be slightly more limited than previous labs regarding instruction. Reading and understanding the documentation (especially the reference manual) will be essential. There isn't "new" information or critical terms for this lab. The lecture(s) and documentation should answer most of your questions. This lab will challenge you (in moderation) to verify you understand embedded concepts, basic driver developments, and debugging skills. Given the nature of this lab, you will be given an extra week (3 weeks instead of 2 weeks) to complete this lab. Start early.
